TruFlex® canola with Roundup® Ready Technology

The benefits of TruFlex canola

TruFlex canola is Bayer's second-generation weed control trait. New advances in trait technology will help enable better weed control and crop safety compared to Roundup Ready canola. It's a combination that could result in higher yield potential at harvest time.

Extended application window

TruFlex canola gives you weed control flexibility. The window of application for Roundup Ready Herbicides* will extend past the six-leaf stage to first flower, providing farmers the flexibility to manage weather, time and weed challenges.

The rates farmers need to get results

Increased flexibility in application rates allows farmers to target problem weed species at the right rate (always follow label instructions).

Backed by the Roundup Advantage

Roundup Ready traits and the Roundup Ready Herbicide range are a system designed to work together. The leading formulations contain PLANTSHIELD technology and are the only formulations covered by the Bayer warranty.

The unmatched combination provides you with tools you need to effectively control weeds in your canola field.

The window of application for Roundup Ready* will extend past the six-leaf stage at the way to first flower.
